

BLOWS CAUSED DURANT'S DEATH

Witnesses So Testify in Case at Waterbury.

THE HEARING IS CLOSED.

According to Testimony of Dr. Jones, the Primary Cause of Death Was the Blows Inflicted by Coon and Dennis.

Waterbury, Nov. 23.—Investigation into the death of Peter Durant, an aged inmate of the state insane asylum here, who died the first of November, was brought to a close yesterday, and the report of the board of supervisors who have been conducting the hearing will be made, it is expected, within a few weeks.

Witnesses examined yesterday testified to what occurred one night between Durant and two attendants in the dining room. They said that Durant persisted in rising from his chair and leaving the room, and that, finally, two attendants, Coon and Dennis, after trying to force the patient into his seat, struck him.

F. B. Curtis, an employee of the institution, said that Durant's chair slipped from under him. He did not see, he claimed, that Durant threatened the attendants with a knife, as had been previously alleged.

Dr. Henry Jones of this place, who was present at the post mortem examination of Durant, said that he found the breast bone bruised and four ribs broken, as well as other minor injuries. In his opinion, the primary cause of death was the blows inflicted by the two defendants, which, however, he thought, were not hard enough to have seriously affected a younger and more healthy man. Dr. W. L. Wasson, second assistant physician at the hospital, thought Durant's death was due to a blow on the head.

At the conclusion of the hearing the members of the board of supervisors left town, and it is expected will make known the result of their findings in two weeks.

HIGH MAN WAS LOW.

Not Very Good Bowling on Local Alleys Last Night.

The Eureka won three strings from the Owls of Montpelier last evening at Alexander's alleys, in an intercity league game. The Eureka won the first two strings easily, but the third was an even break, and another series had to be added to it to determine the winners. The finals resulted in the Eureka winning by seven pins.

Fraser had high single of 491 also high three string total of 490.

New Suit Case Evidence.

Boston, Nov. 23.—A new and important witness who will appear against the three men under indictment in connection with the death of Susanna Geary, the Winthrop suit-case victim, has appeared. The police say, in Miss Elizabeth Griffiths, a nurse, who, it is alleged, attended the Geary girl while the latter was dying. This nurse has made statements which the authorities claim will be of material assistance in the trial of Dr. Percy D. McLeod, William Hunt, and Lewis Crawford.

FIFTY YEARS OF SUCCESS

Fifty years ago, an eminent specialist prescribed Father John's Medicine for the late Rev. Father O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., by whom it was recommended and from whom it derived its name. It is not a patent medicine and is free from opium, morphine or poisonous drugs or weakening stimulants in any form, such as the majority of patent preparations depend upon for their temporary effect and which are dangerous. You are warned against them. It makes flesh and strength and builds up the body. Prevents pneumonia and consumption. Cures bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed.

HARVARD'S LAST SCRIMMAGE.

Crimson Players Working Hard for the Yale Game.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 21.—The Harvard "varsity" eleven yesterday afternoon was sent through what was probably the last scrimmage, before the game with Yale on Saturday, and the rest of the week will be given up to light work.

After preliminary signal practice yesterday, the "varsity" was given a hard twenty-five minute scrimmage, during which three touchdowns were scored against the second eleven. The "varsity" however, were unable to prevent the second team from carrying the ball twice over the line from the fifteen-yard line, where the second team had been given the ball.

Captain Hurley, Foster, Parker, Leary and Brill were in the signal practice, but did not participate in the scrimmage. The line-up for the hard work for the afternoon was as follows: Left end, Snyder; left tackle, Montgomery; left guard, Burr; center, White; right guard, Korseberg; right tackle, Squires; right end, Knowlton; quarterback, Starr; left halfback, Leonard; right halfback, Wendell; fullback, Carr.

TEDDY RECOVERING.

Slight Operation Performed on Young Roosevelt's Nose.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 23.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., whose nose was broken in a scrimmage in the Yale-Harvard freshman football game on Saturday, is now about, as though nothing had happened to his proboscis. He has undergone a slight operation and his nose will soon be as well as ever.

CURE HAS BEEN FOUND FOR LETTUCE DISEASE

Bureau of Plant Industry Has Succeeded in Raising Crop That Is Immune to the Pest.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Nearly all the winter lettuce in the United States has become diseased, the Post yesterday said, as a result partly of "forcing" methods and of the failure of greenhouse gardeners to strengthen the stock of their plants by occasional crossings with wild lettuce. To remedy these evils Dr. Galloway, chief of the bureau of plant industry, has succeeded in obtaining a crop of winter lettuce plants that are immune to the lettuce disease, yet are of large size and capable of developing early. Seed of healthy winter lettuce was planted and crossed with wild lettuce. From the best of the plants seeds were taken, from which seed will be furnished to the greenhouse men of the great cities.

The bureau of plant industry has imported from the Philippines a lily resembling the common Easter lily in size and color, though bearing only one and at times two flowers to the plant, but developing in the remarkably short space of two to three months. This lily has been crossed with the common Easter lily, resulting in a hybrid which can be produced vastly cheaper than the lily in common use.

The department of agriculture announces a growing market for guinea fowl as table birds, and suggests that they might well be bred in the United States more extensively. There is reason to believe that breeding in guinea varieties will become an increasingly important branch of the poultry industry.

CHILDREN STILL MISSING.

Charles E. Church of White River Junction Searches Without Success.

White River Junction, Nov. 23.—Charles E. Church has returned here, baffled in his efforts in Concord, N. H., and Boston to find his two children who, it is alleged, were surreptitiously taken away from the home of Mr. Church's mother some three weeks ago by his wife, Julia Lura Church. Mr. Church and his wife have separated and she had consented that the children be placed in the care of his mother to bring up. She changed her mind, however, and left town secretly with the children for some destination unknown to relatives here. Lura, the older child, is about seven years old and Clyde, the youngest, is a little over two. The party was traced to Concord, N. H., but all clues seemed to end there. Boston, the former home of Mrs. Church, was visited and inquiries made at the different institutions in which children are cared for, but without any success.

A Case for the Road Commissioner.

Up on the Somerset road in Searsburg there is a long, wide, and deep slough in the roadway. It is the special delight of teamsters and drivers who have to navigate through it. One teamster remarked a few days ago that anybody undertaking its passage needed a compass and suit of sails on his wagon. Recently there appeared upon the banks of this division of the earth's waters a board sign with the following inscription: "All persons are forbidden fishing in the road."

Whether or not the signature was genuine does not appear, but anyway the sign evidently jarred somebody's sensibilities and it was stealthily removed the other day. The cold weather, if it holds, will probably render the inland sea passable for the season. Next spring, however, persons passing that way will need life preservers.

ONE RATE BILL READY

It is Proposed by Commerce Commission

CHIEF VALUE IS DETAILS.

It Is Not Likely That It Will Be Adopted — Useful as a Work of Reference for Little Details.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Interstate Commerce Commission submitted yesterday to the Senate committee which is in session studying the railroad question, a bill of a comprehensive character which is the result of its long studies of this question. In form it is a series of amendments to the present law, and is much like a bill which Senator Culom for some years sanctioned. The bill deals largely with the methods of procedure. It does not say anything about the Interstate Commerce Commission as a body, leaving its status under any new legislation to be defined by Congress without any suggestions from the Commission. It is not supposed that this bill will be adopted, because the Senate never legislates in that way, but that it will form something of a book of reference for many of the little details, highly important in the administration of law, which might otherwise escape the attention of Congress, is probable.

EL HADGIE SEES PRESIDENT.

He Presents Tusks and Lion's Skin From Menelik.

Washington, Nov. 23.—In full court uniform, with a brilliant red turban and a richly jeweled sword, and wearing a glittering star on his breast, El Hadgie Abdullah Bash, minister of commerce of Abyssinia and governor of Harar, was presented to the President yesterday.

He gave Mr. Roosevelt two elephant tusks of the ivory and a huge lion's skin, all from the Emperor of Abyssinia, and laid before the President a letter of greetings from his august master, written on the royal stationery in the Abyssinian language, which nobody in Washington could read—even the interpreter, who talks Arabic, but not Abyssinian, was flustered.

The President gave El Hadgie his photograph and autograph, for which the envoy returned through the interpreter thanks couched in a wealth of oriental imagery and language.

The object of the Abyssinian's mission is to negotiate a number of concessions here. The President expressed his great interest in promotion of trade between the two countries.

PREPARING CANAL REPORT.

Consulting Engineers to Draw Up Rough Draft for the President.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The sub-committee of three members, with Gen. Davis as chairman, which was appointed among the members of the Board of Consulting Engineers of the Isthmian Canal to draw up a rough plan for the report to President Roosevelt, held a session yesterday. The last meeting of the full board will take place Friday, when Gen. Davis will probably make a short speech, thanking the members for their efforts and bidding the foreign delegates farewell.

Although the board has differed in its opinions, it can be stated that at all the meetings the utmost good-fellowship prevailed. No certain choice has as yet been made of the number who will go to Europe in January to meet the European delegates for a final arrangement of the report, but it is very likely that Gen. Davis will be elected.

CASTRO COOLS DOWN.

Shows Signs of Modifying His Attitude Toward France.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—With the French warships at Martinique, but a day's cruise from Venezuelan waters, President Castro has begun to show signs of modifying his attitude toward the French government so far as diplomatic relations are concerned. The tenor of despatches received from Mr. Russell, the American minister at Caracas, is that President Castro seems now inclined to be responsive.

PUTS THE TARIFF ASIDE.

Dolliver Sees No Change Till Presidential Election.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23.—Before departing for Washington, Senator Dolliver gave out an interview declaring that talk of tariff revision was untimely, and that nothing could be accomplished in this line until after the next election. He said: "Discussion has already developed the fact that tariff revision means one thing in Massachusetts and quite another in Iowa, and it requires no very deep knowledge of affairs to see that when the question is opened it is likely to be open from one end to the other."

It is because President Roosevelt understands the situation that he is not likely to urge the question of tariff revision as a matter calling for the immediate attention of Congress. "My opinion is that there will be no general tariff revision prior to the next presidential election, and I have a very distinct conviction that the Republican party will go into that fight with the fair understanding with the people that the party will take up the tariff question with the view to reducing such duties as are higher than necessary for the protection of our domestic industry."

PROCRASTINATION

The Habit of Delay—Some of Its Consequences—Causes of This Bad Habit.

"Defer not till tomorrow to be wise, tomorrow's sun to thee may never rise."

Truly it has been said that procrastination is the thief of time. The habit of delay is one of the most vicious faults to which mankind is subject. In almost every instance delays are entirely unnecessary and are often due to carelessness, but more often to thoughtlessness. Strange as it may seem, this danger from delay is encountered more often as a result of carelessness or thoughtlessness about our health or the health of someone dependent upon us. How often pneumonia could be prevented if the victim had acted sooner.

Now is the time to watch out for that little cold. Now is the time to take steps to check it, and the best way to arrest its progress is to take Magee's Emulsion. This is the wonderful combination of Cod Liver Oil, Malt and Hypophosphites. It primes the system so that it will throw off that "little cold" and prevent such serious complications as pneumonia, bronchitis, grip, etc. Magee's Emulsion is non-narcotic and non-alcoholic. Nothing enters into its composition that is not of value to the system. It produces fat, keeps you warm and makes you strong. Magee's Emulsion is a food, a medicine and a tonic combined. Beware of the wine preparations of cod liver oil. They contain no oil, so cannot possibly produce the benefits sought. Besides, the alcohol will cause a reaction after you cease taking it, that will leave you in worse condition than before.

Magee's Emulsion will surely help you. Start taking it today and a month later compare yourself with your condition of today. Don't delay, tomorrow never comes. Remember, no wine, whiskey, just food. Get a bottle today of E. A. Drown, Druggist, 48 North Main street, Barre, Vt.

KANE LIEUTENANT HELD IN $15,000 FOR TRIAL

Former Brooklyn Assemblyman Charged With Registration Frauds for Last Election.

New York, Nov. 23.—Joseph J. Cahill, formerly a member of the Assembly from the 3d assembly district of Brooklyn, and a lieutenant of James Kane, Democratic leader of that district, was arrested yesterday, charged with fraud in registration for the last election, and held in $15,000 bail for trial. Bail was given by James Kane.

BEFORE GRAND JURY.

Brother of Leader Murphy Is Called in New York.

New York, Nov. 23.—John J. Murphy, brother of the leader of Tammany Hall, was the first witness before the grand jury yesterday in the investigation of the case of John Krup, who was arrested soon after election, accused of illegal voting. Krup disappeared and his $5,000 bail was forfeited.

In an effort to find out what influence caused the payment of the bail for Krup, John J. Murphy, James E. Gaffney and John F. Pickett, the latter of whom put up the $5,000 bail, were summoned to testify before the grand jury yesterday. Attorney General Julius M. Mayer said later that he expected to find Krup and secure his return soon.

Tax Clerk Said to Be $3,000 In.

New York, Nov. 23.—By the arrest of Gerald J. O'Keefe, the charge is made that there was crooked work in the office of Col. David E. Austen, the receiver of taxes, during the last rush of collections.

O'Keefe was one of many temporary clerks employed in October. Two weeks ago, a taxpayer complained that they had not got receipts for their taxes. Three taxpayers stated that their checks had been returned through banks, but the receipts had not come. An investigation showed that these taxpayers had not been credited with having paid their taxes and that their checks were not recorded. It is alleged that O'Keefe took checks amounting to $3,500.

CALL BY LA FOLLETTE.

Wisconsin Legislature Takes Up Senatorship on Dec. 4.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 23.—Governor La Follette has issued a call for a special session of the legislature to convene December 4 to consider, among other things, a communication from the governor relative to the United States senatorship and the governorship.

The call also provides for consideration of a law under which the state capitol, which was burned about two years ago, may be rebuilt. The subjects to be considered are as follows:

To amend the law providing for additions and repairs to the capitol; to amend the so-called railroad rate commission bill; to provide for the change in taxation or license fees of railroads and to provide for their collection; to alter primary election law; to provide a form of ballot relating to fish ways in dams; relating to the erection of bridges; to amend the act forming a grand inspection commission passed by the last legislature; to provide funds temporarily for the university; to enact laws against abuses of insurance companies, railroads and other public service corporations; to receive messages relating to the governorship or senatorship.

PROFIT ON HIS OWN POLICIES

Tarbell Accepted Commissions on Thousands.

BELIEVES THIS IS PROPER

Tells Story of Business Trips With Family Parties and Free Transportation—Talks of Extravagance.

New York, Nov. 2.—Gage E. Tarbell, second vice president of the Equitable, admitted as a witness before the legislative investigating committee that he had taken out two policies of $100,000 each since becoming an officer of the Equitable, and that he had taken for himself in each case all of the agent's commission on the first business and on the renewals.

Asked by Assemblyman Cox if he did not consider that "rebating" the witness in a loud tone declared he did not consider it so, and believed he was justified in taking commissions on insurance upon his own life taken out in the company of which he was an officer. Witness testified further that he had taken out life insurance in the New York Life, the Travelers and the Aetna. His policy in the New York Life amounted, he said, to $50,000, and on this insurance he had drawn commission. He added that he had made the arrangements in the New York Life with George W. Perkins.

In response to further questions Mr. Tarbell said he believed it was the custom for officers of life insurance companies to take commission whenever they insured their own lives.

Mr. Tarbell, in an aggressive manner, testified that he had taken out a total of $395,470 in life insurance in the Equitable, including the two policies of $100,000 each, since he became an officer. One of these policies had been written through Easley & King, general agents of Newark. He had taken all the commission on this business, and had taken and was taking renewal commissions. The other policy was placed through General Agent Haines, and he had followed the same plan of taking commissions in this case as well as in the other.

In other companies, the witness said, he had taken out $125,000 insurance—$50,000 was in the New York Life, $50,000 in the Travelers, and $25,000 in the Aetna. In each case he received commissions, the total insurance taken by him amounting to more than $500,000—$400,000 was on his own life and the remainder on his family.

Pinned down by Mr. Hughes, witness said he thought that whenever the officer of an insurance company took out a policy, in his own or in another company, it would be safe to presume that he was getting the commissions. He admitted that in the case of his taking out insurance in his own company he had taken the entire commission, although he had ostensibly been insured through a general agent.

Mr. Tarbell made other interesting disclosures. Among these was his admission concerning business trips around the country. On these trips were groups of men, most of them attached to the society, and sometimes his wife, son and daughter. Transportation was generally furnished free by the railroads, and sometimes the private car as well. He justified this sort of thing by asserting that, while he at times took these trips in lieu of vacation, the private car was really a workshop to him, and he always deducted family expenses in his vouchers.

MANNING SUBPOENAED.

Albany Man Will Be Heard by Insurance Investigators.

Albany, Nov. 23.—William S. Manning of Albany, referred to in Tuesday's session of the insurance investigation as "Mr. Depeux's rantankerous friend who gets around once a year," and who gave out an interview here asking Mr. Hughes to put him on the stand, has been subpoenaed to appear before the insurance committee in New York today.

QUESTIONS TO STAND.

Judge Overrules Government's Plea in Burton Case.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23.—When court opened yesterday in the trial of United States Senator Burton of Kansas, Judge Van De Venter announced that he overruled the objection made by the government Tuesday to certain questions asked by counsel for the defense in the cross-examination of witness Thomas B. Harlan, former attorney for the Rio Rico Grain and Securities company, who was called by the prosecution. Mr. Harlan described his first meeting with Senator Burton on Nov. 17, 1902. He talked over the matter of the senator accepting a position with the Rio Rico company on a trip to Chicago. In recalling conversation with Senator Burton, Mr. Harlan said that the senator remarked: "I am not going to do anything inconsistent with my duty as a senator."

Sensor Burton finally said he would serve as counsel for $500 a month. The agreement was for five months.

INDIANS DEPOSE CHIEF.

Two Claimants Made Question for Federal Government.

Muskogee, I. T., Nov. 23.—The House of Kings has concurred in the impeachment proceedings of the House of Warriors in the Cherokee council, and Chief W. C. Rogers has been officially deposed. Frank J. Boudnot was elected to the chieftaincy.

It is now for the United States government to decide which of the two claimants it will recognize.

TEXAS NEEDS IMMIGRANTS.

Italian Representatives Here Wire Report to Their Government.

Rome, Nov. 23.—Inspector Adolfo Rossi, special representative of the Italian government for emigrants in the United States, has sent the government an important report of an interview which he had with President Roosevelt on November 9.

The inspector says the president promised to do everything possible to prevent the congestion of Italian emigrants in the large cities, and to cause them, instead, to be spread throughout the agricultural regions. Successful experiments in this direction, the inspector adds, have been made.

From a report of Chevalier Forni, Italian consul at New Orleans, it appears that Texas offers good ground for emigration. The consul urges government to promote Italian emigration to Texas.

ARMOUR WILL LOSE $625,000.

Bears Have Big Packer on the Run in Chicago—Heat and Corn Pits.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 23.—The bears in the corn and wheat pits of the local board of trade have J. Ogden Armour, the big bull gon speculator, on the run. The action against the wealthy packer which forced him to unload millions of bushels of corn and wheat holdings in wheat and corn will cost a loss of over $500,000, a sum he expected to reap in profits.

Misinformation as to the total yield of corn, based on reports furnished by his holding buyers in the corn belt, is the rock on which the packer ran. Armour loses 2½ cents every time he sells a bushel of corn, and the total loss will approximate $625,000.

Left Over One Hundred Descendants.

The death of Mrs. Rose Marchand, of the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Laramie, of Fair Haven, November 9, at the advanced age of 85 years, is noteworthy from the fact that Mrs. Marchand leaves 104 descendants.

Mrs. Marchand, whose maiden name was Bro, was the daughter of Charles Omond and Mary (Fournier) Bro. She was born in Lacadie, province of Quebec, in 1820. She was married at the age of twenty years to Joseph Marchand. They came to the States to make their home in 1847, and for the past forty-one years had resided in Fair Haven. Here most of their family of fourteen children were born and reared, nine of them being still alive. They are: Emma, wife of Joseph Gallipoli, of Valley City, N. Dakota, Sarah, wife of Henry Preston, Joseph Marchand, of Scranton, Pa., Louis Marchand, of Dazie, N. Dakota, Mary, wife of James Laramie, Louis Marchand, Simon Marchand, Aurelia, wife of Thomas Laramie, and Charles Marchand. Ninety-five called Mrs. Marchand grandmother, there being fifty-five grandchildren and forty great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Marchand celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1890, and Mr. Marchand died two years later.

FASTING CAUSES HIS DEATH.

Eccentric "Back-to-Nature" Preacher Succumbs to Lack of Food.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Unable to retain nourishment, due to long periods of fasting, John Kleinst, the "back to nature" preacher, died Tuesday.

Kleinst, who was fifty years old, had traveled all over the country on foot, wearing only sandals and clad in the thinnest and coarsest garments. When he did not fast he lived on roots and herbs. One of his beliefs was that the Day of Judgment was at hand, and he would frequently stop persons on the street, and, with uplifted fingers, warn them to prepare for the Last Day.

He wore no underclothing and was a familiar figure in the downtown streets, where he sold pamphlets advocating his ideas of "getting back to nature."

He was committed to the Dunning Insane Asylum three months ago, but was soon released.

Guinea Hens in Demand.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Department of Agriculture announces that there is a growing market in this country for Guinea hens as table birds and suggests that they might well be bred in the United States more extensively, either with other poultry, or in larger numbers by themselves.

"Very young broilers bring good prices early in the season in city markets," says the bulletin, "while the older ones are easily sold throughout the autumn and winter. They may be prepared for the table like ordinary fowl or like game birds and have very much the same food value as chicken. Guinea eggs are also considered very choice eating."
